TAFTVILLE.

Enjoyable Presentation Party Given by Mrs. Robert Hargreaves—Miss Alice Greenwood Observes Birthday—Teachers Have Visiting Day—Other Notes.

On Saturday evening Mrs. Robert Hargreaves of No. 45 Norwich avenue gave a presentation party, about twenty friends responding to her invitation, namely: Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stanton, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Stanton, Mr. and Mrs. L. Clegg, Mr. and Mrs. H. C.
Chippendale, Mr. and Mrs. Barnes of Baldie, Mr. and Mrs. Dixon, Mrs.
Fleetwood and Miss Eccles.

During the evening the following programs were given, the elected chairman being Mrs. W. Stanton, which position he filled in a very creditable manner: Selection on the gramophone, Mr. Andrews; song, J. W.
Stanton, "Birds Come But Once a Year"; song, Robert Hargreaves, "Finnigan's Health"; song, Mr. Barnes, "Whisper Her Mother's Name"; the chairman then called on Mr. Barnes in behalf of Mrs. Hargreaves to present a gold vest chain to her husband, Robert Hargreaves. After a few remarks with regard to the high esteem he was held in by the friends present he handed the chain over to Mr. Hargreaves, who responded with a few words of thanks, thanking his wife and friends and hoping they would all enjoy themselves. Songs were then rendered by Robert Chippendale, Last Saturday Night; Mrs. Andrews, Our Hands Have Met; L. Clegg, There's a Tavern; duet by Mrs. Dixon and Mrs. Barnes, rendering, Harry Hargreaves. Supper was then served by the ladies, which was greatly appreciated by all present.

Games were then concluded in the party dispersing about 11:30, with the singing of Auld Lang Syne, and with many wishes for the future welfare of the host and hostess. Those having spent a most enjoyable evening.

Miss Alice Greenwood celebrated eighteen of her friends at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Greenwood, 31 Providence street, Saturday evening, in honor of her birthday. During the course of the pleasant evening, which was quickly passed with music, dancing, and Greenwood was presented a silver ring by her friends, in which her initials were engraved, and a bracelet by her mother. Delightful refreshments were served. Miss Greenwood proved a charming and hospitable hostess, and her guests departed, wishing her many happy returns of the day.

Miss Allard Improving.
Miss Alma Allard of South A street, who has been seriously ill with pneumonia for the past week, showed a decided change for the better Monday, and her friends are looking for her complete recovery in a few days.

Social Evening.
Mr. and Mrs. Kenyon entertained William Taylor and Gordon Taylor of Monop Saturday and Sunday. On

NEW CASES IN SUPERIOR COURT.

Twenty-eight on the List for March—Many Suits Over Notes and Mortgages with but Three Divorces.

There have been 28 cases returned to the clerk of the superior court for the March list of cases, of which most are damage suits for amounts varying from $1,000 to $10,000. There are but three divorce cases, but several suits over notes and mortgages. The list of cases follows:

Dennis Murphy of Hoboken is sued by J. D. Bailey of Groton for $3,000 to recover on a promissory note dated Jan. 1, 1908.

Clara L. Bullock of Providence for the possession of goods and $600 damages brings suit against Job H. Tubbs of East Lyme, D. E. Moran and J. F.
Moran of New London. This is a suit arising over the taking of two picture machines from the plaintiff unlawfully in New London.

Joseph T. Crutenden of Norwich sues Robert C. Hall of Pittsburg for $2,500 damages for work performed and paid for by the plaintiff and defendant.

Allen S. Dushes of New London sues City of New London for $3,000 because of a fall on the walk at No.
56 Colt street in that city Dec. 6, 1908, claiming the fall and the damage.

J. J. Desmond, administrator of the estate of George B. Norton, brings suit against James J. Peckham of New London, executor of the will of Elizabeth Norton. George B. Norton died in Norwich in 1886. Mrs. Norton died in 1890. The estate of George B.
Norton was then in the hands of the will and she was given the life use of all his estate, including twenty shares of the New York, London and Western Railroad company. This was turned over to the defendant at the death of Mrs. Norton and she refused to deliver it to the plaintiff. She is still administrator of Mr. Norton's estate. The plaintiff claims an order and decree of the court directing the defendant to deliver the stock to the plaintiff and claims $5,000 damages.

Three Divorces.
May B. Tracy of this city wants a divorce from Roy A. Tracy of Poughkeepsie, N. Y. They were married Oct. 1, 1907. Her maiden name was May B. Osborn. She wants the custody of their child.

Albion Grant of Norwich, the well known and popular interpreter, seeks a divorce from Annie Morgan Grant of Brooklyn on the grounds of habitual intemperance for 18 years and adultery in December, 1908, with Moses Margaret. They were married Sept. 18, 1891.

Hadden & Co. of Hartford bring suit for $12,000 damages against M. J. Green to recover on three promissory notes of last June. The notes were made for the jury. Hadden & Co., Inc., bring a suit against M. J. Green for $5,000 damages for the two other notes of September last.

The Weldmann Silk Dyeing Co. sues M. J. Green for $1,000 on account of damages to the dyeing machine caused by the defendant.

Saturday evening a social time was enjoyed at the home of Mr. and Mrs.
Joseph C. Marsan. One of the pleasures was the violin playing of Mr.
Taylor, who is a musician of ability.

Unclaimed Letters.
The following are the unclaimed letters in the Taftville postoffice for the week ending Feb. 27, 1909: D. D. Dubrille, D. D. Grier, Fred Garfield, Miss Emily Hill, Ronald Lagoia.

Visiting Day at Wequonoc School.
Monday was visiting day at the Wequonoc public school, and there was no school. The children took the opportunity to study methods of teaching in other places by visiting schools in Hartford, New Haven, New Britain, Willimantic and Norwich.

Personal.
Miss Nellie Farrell was the guest of her sister in New London Sunday.

James Bullenauer has returned from a week's visit in Westerly and Providence.

Frank Marcelline of Merchants avenue moved Monday to his farm in Lisbon.

George Paterson, Martin Wolf and James Mondeville of Jewett City were Taftville visitors Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clement Urteau and relatives from Willimantic were visitors in Taftville Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Allard have moved to Central Falls. The Allards have taken positions in a cotton mill.

her home in Taftville after a week's visit with relatives in Warren, Mass.

WESTERLY MAN WINS
HALLETT & DAVIS PIANO

A. P. Pendleton wrote the Limerick Line in Plaut-Cadden Contest Which Took the Prize.

Written on a coupon cut from The Bulletin, J. P. Pendleton of No. 19 Beach street, Westerly, R. I., submitted
"Not its cost but its value is high" as the missing line in the limerick contest which the Plaut-Cadden Co. has been conducting and as the result won as a prize a $350 Hallett & Davis piano.

There were about 1,800 contestants who represented the towns in the eastern part of the state, the larger number coming from Norwich, Danbury, Putnam, New London and Westerly while Colchester, Jewett City and many other of the smaller places had many interested. The contest closed Saturday.

The completed limerick, of which Mr. Pendleton supplied the last line, is as follows:

"What piano is safest to buy?"
"Hallett & Davis," came quick the reply.
"Its tone and its price Both are equally nice,
Not its cost but its value is high."

As second prize, a $125 certificate was awarded to Robert Wilson, 217 Broadway, Norwich, Conn., whose line was "The very best art can supply." The judges were Arthur Forbes, Boston; Arthur G. Crowell and H. M.
Briggs.

the church, later with tea at her home. Each one brought a gift, it being the fourteenth birthday of the hostess.

For $5,000 damages Michael Kelly of Danbury, administrator of the estate of Joseph Kelly, sues the New Haven road for the death of James Kelly, who was killed in New London Oct. 9, 1908, by being struck by an engine.

Peter Myhrund of Occum sues the town of Groton for $2,000 because of injuries by falling into a hole at Occum, where was the cellar of a house which had been erected. The town he claims knew of the defect.

$1,000 for Assault.
Mary E. Ray of Norwich sues Meyer Autok of Norwich for $1,000. She claims that on Jan. 10, 1908, the defendant, who was drunk, called at her house, assaulted her, pushed her into the bedroom and on to the bed and made indecent proposals to her. She claims that the defendant called at her house, assaulted her, pushed her into

against Levi W. Crouch, William Jackson, Clara M. H. McGowan, Ida J.
Whipple et al., Joseph P. Williams and Emil D. Wylder for the foreclosure of mortgages, the notes being signed by the defendant. These cases have previously been referred to.

George A. Sharp, administrator of East Lyme, sues the town of Groton for $5,000 damages for the death of Frank G. Sharp, who was killed by a train of the New London and Groton railroad on the morning of Jan. 10, 1908, and $5,000 paid on it. The remainder is sought as the damages shows.
